

REMBRANDT, VAN DYCK, GAINSBOROUGH

The Treasures of Kenwood House, London

Oct 12, 2012–Jan 13, 2013

Portraits Today and Yesterday

YOU WILL NEED: Family photos/portraits; handouts or projected images of works of art from the Rembrandt, Van Dyck, Gainsborough: The Treasures of Kenwood House, London exhibition

Use this worksheet to analyze your family photos and to compare them to those of the eighteenth century. Briefly answer each question, and be sure to explain your answers—for example, if you think the portrait is casual, what do you see that makes you say that?

	Today	Eighteenth Century
Who is in this picture?
What are they doing?
Are they holding anything?
Where are they? Are they outside or inside?
What is their expression (e.g., happy, sad, serious)?
What are their clothes like? Are they fancy or casual?
What do you think the person is thinking about?
Is this a formal or a casual picture?		