Welcome to the Milwaukee Art Museum!

Here is a museum game you can play alone, with someone else, or with a group of people. Depending on how you play, you can ask the questions to yourself or take turns answering the questions. You can use this game again and again with each work of art you discover.

You don't need an art background or any specific information to play this game.

There are no right or wrong answers to Art Quest's questions. Use the left column on each page for your first selected work of art, then choose another work of art and use the right column of each page to play the game again.

Begin by selecting a work of art anywhere in the Museum — it's your choice!

When you've selected another work of art in the Museum, start at question one. Write your answers for your second selected work of art in the right column of each page.

Do you like this work of art?
Why or why not?

ARTWORK ONE
ARTWORK TWO

There are thirteen game questions. After you have explained your answer, move on to question two.

Look at the artwork's label on the wall and complete this page.
After you've collected this information, sketch your selected work of art on the next page.

You may have noticed that question twelve is the same question that you were asked at the start of the game. Do you like the work of art more or less than you did in the beginning? Do you think it matters if you like it? Why or why not?

ARTWORK ONE

ARTWORK TWO

Look at the artwork's label on the wall and complete the next page.

What color do you see the most of in this work of art? What color do you see the least of in this work of art?

ARTWORK ONE

ARTWORK TWO

When you have run out of colors, move on to question three.

Which object or shape did you see first in this work of art? Why do you think this is the first thing that you noticed?

ARTWORK ONE

ARTWORK TWO

When you've run out of shapes and objects, go on to question four.

Do you like this work of art? Why or why not?

ARTWORK ONE

ARTWORK TWO

After you have explained your answer, please move on to question thirteen.

11 Think back on all your responses about this work of art. What have you discovered about looking at this work of art? Have you learned anything about yourself or others?

ARTWORK ONE

ARTWORK TWO

Please go on to question twelve.

4 What is going on in this work of art? Mention whatever you see happening, no matter how small.

ARTWORK ONE

ARTWORK TWO

When you can't find anything more, move on to question five.

Think of a title for this work of art that is based on what you have noticed so far (colors, objects, emotions, materials, etc.), and then take a look at the actual title of this work of art on the wall label. Why do you think it has this title?

ARTWORK ONE

ARTWORK TWO

As soon as you are ready, move on to question eleven.

Is this work of art older or younger than you? How can you tell?

ARTWORK ONE

ARTWORK TWO

When you run out of responses, move on to question six.

Take a look at the other works of art displayed around this one. Do they seem to be made with similar materials or tools? What is different about them?

ARTWORK ONE

ARTWORK TWO

Please move on to question ten.

Make an argument for why this work of art is true to life. Make an argument for why it is not true to life.
